Investor Alert: Beware of Impersonation, Fraudulent Websites, Social Media Accounts and Investment Scams

Important security information about Jio BlackRock Broking Private Limited ("JBBPL")

Kindly take note that that certain unknown, unscrupulous persons have been attempting to impersonate JBBPL and wrongfully claim to represent JBBPL, including by wrongfully using our logo and trademark, SEBI registration numbers, etc., on Telegram, WhatsApp channels, social media platforms and websites, with the intention of misleading the public by offering purported investment opportunities, trading services, stock recommendations, investment advisory services, guaranteed return schemes and other financial products, and soliciting money and personal information from members of the public. These unknown persons have created fraudulent bank account(s), fake WhatsApp channels, websites, social media pages, where forged and fabricated documents have been uploaded with a view to cheat the public and to lure them to invest money, promising attractive returns.

Please note that such imposters may showcase attractive returns in their online posts or other communications to the public. Upon an individual corresponding with them or following them, such imposters may approach the person privately and request him/her to transfer money to specified bank accounts. Imposters may attempt to lure investors into joining WhatsApp groups, Telegram channels or similar online forums, where individuals falsely claiming to be market experts, relationship managers or administrators offer purported exclusive trading tips, investment recommendations or guaranteed returns. Such groups are frequently used to facilitate fraudulent schemes, including market manipulation practices commonly known as 'pump-and-dump' schemes, which may result in significant financial losses to investors.

Please note that JBBPL, any of its subsidiaries, employees or directors, do not provide investment advice, guaranteed return schemes, recommendations or stock tips or advisory related to cryptocurrency, F&O or overnight risk schemes through any unauthorised channels such as personal messaging groups, social media platforms or unofficial websites. Investors should treat any such communication from unofficial channels/ IDs but claiming to originate from JBBPL with extreme caution and report the same immediately. Further, JBBPL does not offer meetings or jobs with its officials against any payment.

If you come across any such activity as outlined above, we urge you to also kindly report the same to the appropriate law enforcement authorities and inform us on broking.support@jioblackrockbrokerage.com. Investors are advised not to transfer any money to bank accounts, UPI IDs, wallets or any other payment mechanisms held by any individual. JBBPL shall not be responsible for any losses, damages, claims, costs or expenses incurred by any person arising from dealings with individuals, entities, websites, applications, social media accounts or communication channels that falsely claim to be associated with JBBPL.
